Aims and Scope

The aim of the conference is to bring together Scientists, researchers, technologists, engineers, business executives, environmentalists and policy makers from different countries, and to discuss applied and practical issues in science, technology and engineering. At the same time, it is aimed to enable the conference participants to share the changes and developments in the field of science and engineering with their colleagues.

However, this situation seems to have started to change with the Covid-19 epidemic disease. It is expected that changes will occur in science and technology during and after the Covid 19 epidemic disease. For this reason, this conference focused on the changes and innovations in the field of science and technology that started with Covid 19. However, the organizing committee also recognizes the value of traditional knowledge in science and engineering.

KICSTE2022 supports and promotes the open access concept, publishing its scientific outcome as open access publications. The academic content obtained by this event will be published as conference proceedings. A number of selected papers from the appropriate scientific discipline will also be considered for special edition publication in the following journals: Afro Euro Journals, African British Journals, European Scientific Journal (ESJ) and European Journal of Science and Technology.
